

History:

Bellevue Memorial Park was founded in 1892 with three original shareholders, Charles E. Harwood, H. C. Oakley and Dr. J.W. Oakley.

The name “Bellevue” was selected by Mrs. Oakley, who named the cemetery after a street in her home town of Ontario, Canada. The original by-laws of Ontario Cemetery Association (DBA Bellevue Memorial Park) are dated May 24, 1891.

Many of the families who are responsible for what Ontario is today are interred at Bellevue Memorial Park. The Chaffey's, the Milliken's, the Atwood's, the Armstrong's and the Draper's are some of these families.

Since 1892 the cemetery has interred more than 62,500 families, and today encompasses approximately 78 acres including 10 acres yet to be developed. The original Bellevue Mausoleum was constructed in the early 1930's and has been expanded throughout the years. Sunset Mausoleum was completed in 2008.
